KWC LUNA kitchen faucet is groundbreaking

NORCROSS, Ga. (April 2009) – Incorporating smart design that complements both contemporary and traditional kitchen environments, the new KWC LUNA faucet sets a new standard for the kitchen environment. The innovative faucet's modern cylindrical shape with 270 degree swivel spout and pull-out spray define high-performance and ease of use.

“The pioneering KWC LUNA sets elevated standards in the kitchen with timeless sensibilities at an affordable price,” says Darryl Jones, Divisional Sales Manager of KWC AMERICA.

The KWC LUNA's newly developed spout guide also guarantees a long lifespan for the product. Additionally, the spray head, with its 27.6 inch telescopically extending hose, features a heat insulated handle and comes complete with JETCLEAN technology for effective hard water protection.
